BI stops Lebanon-bound Pinay household workers at Iloilo airport

MANILA -- Immigration officials intercepted six suspected human trafficking victims who attempted to leave the country for Lebanon at the Iloilo International Airport (IIA).

In a report to BI Commissioner Jaime Morente Wednesday, Travel Control and Enforcement Unit (TCEU) head Ma. Timotea Barizo said the women, who were illegally recruited to work as domestic helpers were stopped at the departure area of the Iloilo International Airport (IIA) last December 1 as they were about to board a Cebu Pacific flight to Hong Kong.

"Upon arriving in Hong Kong they were supposed to board their connecting flight to Beirut and end up working there as household service workers (HSWs) without the appropriate overseas work permits," Barizo said in a statement.

She added that the trafficking attempt was foiled after they were tipped by informants about the illegal activity.

"A concerned citizen called the IACAT (Inter-Agency Council Against Trafficking) 1343 action line to relay the information. Reports like these are really valuable to the council as they help us immediately identify the victims and conduct rescue operations," Barizo said.

On the other hand, Ma. Lourdes Mariano, BI-IIA head supervisor, said they immediately verified the information, and interviewed the victims.

"They are not allowed to work in Lebanon to work out the need for our fel-ments," she said. The work alleged that "freed" facilitators ing of their visas would them upon Beirut. Mean- iterated public to report possible cases of human trafficking.

"The IACAT (Inter-Agency Council Against Trafficking) 1343 action line is a valuable tool to combat human trafficking. We urge our fellow citizens to call and report any suspicious council may help in the rescue and rescue of victims who are being trafficked and ill-treated," he said. When were the IACAT in assistance investigation.
